MANITOBA TO ENTER TRACK TEAM EVENTS

Springs a Surprise on Eastern Colleges.

A DANGEROUS RIVAL.

Westerners To Try For Intercollegiate Championship At Toronto.

An interesting piece of news has just been received from the University of Manitoba, to the effect that they intend to enter a track team at the Intercollegiate Track Meet at Toronto. This has caused much comment and a good deal of surprise in athletic circles.

Manitoba University, although small, when compared to the Eastern universities, has progressed rapidly in the last few years. Great interest has been taken in sports by the students, and much excellent material has come to the front. Canadian Rugby, a game practically never played in the West, has in the last couple of years sprung into prominence, and is extremely popular. Owing to the great distances in the West, it is very hard to arrange any sort of a league, but the University has arranged a regular schedule with Saskatoon, Edmonton and Brandon. These games are becoming more and more popular as time goes on, and the standard of Rugby is improving immensely.

A track meet was recently held in Saskatoon. In this meet there were men representing the Universities of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The track representatives from Manitoba won a decisive victory by securing ninety-two out of a possible hundred and twenty-six points.

POLO TEAM HAS FAST WORK-OUT

McGill Squads Will Meet M.A.A.A. Wednesday In Double-Header.

McGill swimmers had a fast polo practice last night in preparation for the opening of the water polo season, which will take place next Wednesday evening, when the Red and White first and second squads will meet their old rivals the M.A.A.A. in the Y.M.C.A. tank. Reports from the Peel Street Club state that several stars of a few years ago are once again returning to the game, and will be seen in action next week, including Bobby Logan and George Hodgson, to say nothing of Frank McGill, the famous "submarine" player, who will again line-up with the White Wheelers.

Despite the fact that the McGill squad will face such noted polo players as above mentioned, still, the Red and White players are confident of the result for the University teams have also several well-known men on their rosters. George Vernot, of Olympic fame, and a recent addition to the McGill squad, is going as strong as ever and should add great strength to the team, while Harold Fisk, a member of last year's team, can be counted on to give his same lively battle. These two players have always opposed one another in the past but this season will be seen in combination together and should prove torpedoes in breaking through their opponents' defence.

Although it may be said that the McGill first team is stronger on the forward line than in the back division, still the defence is by no means weak. Curly Walters, veteran goalkeeper of the 1919 Intercollegiate champions, is again in the nets where he is very much at home. Among the backs, Roy Foss handles everything that comes his way and will prove a hard man to pass. Les Parsons is at present working in the scrimmage with the first Rugby squad and it is questionable whether he will be able to fill in alongside of Foss on the defence. Owens looks like the best choice if Parsons does not get out in time.

Other players who are showing up well in practice and who may yet catch a place with the senior squad include Laidley, Bastable, Braker and Wade. "Bib" Laidley is a newcomer to the squad who took the water for his first practice of the season last night. Laidley was considered a reliable polo player when

LAST CHANCES.

McGill Has Golden Prospects For Intercollegiate Track Championships.

In order to be certain that the team McGill sends down to the Intercollegiate meet next Thursday is the best team she can produce, Van has decided to hold a complete set of trials this afternoon at 3.30 sharp.

Another object of these trials is to give any men who have been unable to turn out for the University meet, a chance to show their wares.

From every part of Canada we hear of great movements to put track work in its proper place in athletics and make it on a par with that of other countries.

This year we are up against the biggest proposition we have ever been up against, and we are going to see it through.

Now that Manitoba College, the Western Intercollegiate track champions, who only the other day won from the other Western colleges by such an overwhelming majority of points, are going to compete in the Intercollegiate meet — it is going to mean that we will need the strongest possible team we can send in order to cop the championship.

THE "LIT" IS SENDING OUT INVITATIONS

Presidents Of All Societies Invited To a Dinner.

ORIGINAL POLICY.

Affair Will Be Of a Social Rather Than a Business Nature.

The college activities are back to their old pre-war form, and that the whole spirit of the student body had changed this year is evident on all sides. It yet remains, however, for the "Lit," one of the University's most popular institutions of old days, to show that it too has felt the influences of this progressive spirit.

Those interested will be glad to know that the "Lit" is coming back, and that a new and somewhat original policy has been decided upon.

On Tuesday night next, an inaugural dinner will be held in the Union. Invitations have been sent to the presidents of all the undergraduate societies, the presidents of all the years, as well as to the executive and faculty representatives of the Students' Council.

Dr. Stephen Leacock has consented to be present as the guest of honor, and has promised to address the gathering. Apart from Dr. Leacock's, there will be no other addresses except for a short outline of the plans of the executive for the coming year.

Every effort will be made to make the occasion of a social rather than of a business nature.

The invitations have been addressed to the buildings of the respective faculties, and all men who hold offices mentioned above ought to be on the lookout for their invitation.

STAFF RECITAL WELL ATTENDED

Opening Concert Of Season Proves Successful In Every Way.

Last night in the R.V.C. Hall a staff recital was given by the Conservatorium of Music. As early as 8.15 the hall was rapidly filling, while, when the concert started punctually at the half hour, every seat was taken, proving how much appreciated these concerts are by all able to attend.

The varied programme afforded the greatest interest to all present. The second and third movements of the first item were particularly well rendered. In the second movement, one could picture the deserted heath, solitary and sorrowful, from which are seen emerging in the distance Druidical stones or cromlechs.

It is difficult to pick out any one outstanding number, but the piano-forte solo performed by Miss Edith Johnson deserves the fullest merit.

The following is the programme: Trio for violin, violoncello and piano-forte, "Suite sur des Chants Bretons." Jean Hure
Miss Renee d'Amour, Miss Yvette Lamontagne and Miss Ruth Kenwick. Prologue to Pagliacci . . . Leoncavallo.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1920.

THE HOME TOUCH

Sectional Clubs are starting the season with commendable enthusiasm. The several executives have arranged unusually attractive programmes, including, in addition to the customary smokers, dances, theatre parties, snow shoe tramps, skating parties and various other social functions. At least one of these clubs intends to secure separate car accommodation returning home for the holidays. This scheme was tried out last year and proved a success. A second club suggests keeping the home papers in touch with university activities of special interest to that section by supplying them with a column of news each week. Such a column will give an account of all functions of the club, of all athletic, academic or other distinction attained by individuals, or any other happening at McGill which may interest those at home. This should go a long way towards arousing and maintaining a wider public interest in the university.

It is well to remember that to carry out successfully such an ambitious programme the executive will require the strongest support of students available for membership. The officers of the various clubs have apparently spent a great deal of time and energy in furthering the interests of the activities which they lead. It is now up to the members to back them up. Every student who hails from the area in which the club is interested is to some extent responsible for the continued existence or collapse of that club and should yield his strongest support.

It must be emphasized that it is neither the desire nor the intention of these sectional clubs to create a clan organization or a clique spirit. Through these organizations students whose homes are comparatively near together are given an opportunity of meeting in a social way. Lacking such clubs, students from neighboring cities or towns who must have interests in common would seldom or never meet. Broadly, they have been developed to encourage the spirit of friendliness and good-fellowship.

SCIENCE OUT FOR PRACTICE

First Inter-Faculty Game Saturday Noon at Stadium.

Rugby players in the Faculty of Science are out to cop the Inter-Faculty championship and have already got right down to training for the first game which is scheduled for Saturday noon at the Stadium against the combined team from Arts, Commerce and Law. Yesterday afternoon the Science men were out for a preliminary canter on the Old Campus and this afternoon will indulge in a signal practice at the same place at 1.30 o'clock. All those who were out yesterday are asked to be on the job to-day as well as any others who want to get out and help bring titular honors to the plumbers' faculty.

RESOLUTION.

Oh, life of mine—how trivial—
I'm weary of thy sameness,
Methinks thou'rt like an aimless ship
That drifts close to the shore—land,
But never strays the broad blue depths,
And never leaves the shore light's gleam.
Thou hast glimpsed the ocean's broadness,
Thou hast flirted with its deepness,
But never stirred its broad blue depths
And never left the shore light's gleam.
Oh, put ye forth, my drifting ship,
And raise thy colors to the winds,
And start thy sailing strong and long
Upon the broad blue depths.

ALL ATHLETES AT R.V.C. BUSY

Saturday's Events Promise To Be Record Breaking.

That the R.V.C. Sports on Saturday afternoon next will be a success is a certainty beyond all doubt. This is the assertion of one who knows and has had an insight in the continued exertions and practices of the fair athletes. As early as 11 a.m. each morning various sports are seen doing their utmost to kick the cross stick while balancing on a vaulting pole. Here one mighty junior is breaking the record for the high jump; here a lofty sophomore is struggling to better "ten feet" in the broad. Not far off from the jumping pit may be seen a row of dignified seniors resting from their hard "try outs" and at the same time criticizing their younger student athletes. But where are the freshettes? Not far off, but determined to give a hot race for points on the great day not far off.

These observations may be seen daily from class-rooms of the R.V.C., but "Oh for the whole show on Saturday!"
I want to view the splendor
Of mid-ocean's glorious sunrise,
I want to watch the radiance
Of mid-ocean's flaming sunset,
I want to drink the beauty
Of mid-ocean's limpid moonlight,
I want to feel the sadness
Of mid-ocean's pale blue starlight,
I want to fight the evils
Of mid-ocean's blackest darkness.

FIRST UNION SMOKER WAS "FULL O' PEP"

Music, Smokes, Drinks, All Contributed.

500 PRESENT.

Many Interesting Speakers Give Helpful Advice To All.

When it was prophesied that the Union smoker would be a success it was hardly expected that it would reach such proportions in that respect. Last night plainly showed that McGill was far from dead. The Union was crowded by some five hundred undergraduates, anxious to participate in the evening's entertainment. Needless to say, the smoker owes to them as well as to the Union House Committee, whose efforts have been untiring, the "pep" which characterized the function.

The festivities opened with a few numbers by the orchestra. Throughout the evening this music livened things up when there was chance of a slackening, adding zest to the proceedings at all times.

Jack Copeland, president of the Union, in speaking a few words of introduction, expressed his gratification at the large attendance, and emphasized the informal nature of all such gatherings. Undergrads should go to such meetings with the fixed intention of fraternizing with their fellow-students, for, as well as being for the purpose of jollification, these smokers are at the same time mainly of a social character. He also noted with pleasure the presence of several professors, confirming the bonds of union between the members of the faculty and the members of the student body. The committee has been unfortunate in this respect, however, that, owing to sickness, both Dr. Moyle and Prof. Caldwell were unable to accept an invitation to join in the proceedings.

Dean Adams next took the floor. He characterized the smoker as being a "family gathering of McGill men." He also mentioned the departure of the Rugby team for Toronto, likening them to the Greek Argonauts of old, who sought and found the Golden Fleece, and putting forth the wish that our men would "fleece" Varsity. Dean Adams afforded much amusement to his audience by his witty comparisons of American and French humor. He concluded by hoping for the success of the team and of all future smokers.

Professor Whitnall's talk provoked rounds of laughter—his quaint reference to the fact that his predecessor had taken his jokes and subject matter out of his mouth, leaving him in the unenviable position of having to say "a few words on anything." He closed by giving his version of Napoleon's last speech to the "Old Guard," namely, "Farewell," which he employed as a parting word to his listeners.

Frank Genest, the renowned originator of "Si Whitnall's," afforded those present many strenuous minutes of laughter by his jocular and droll anecdotes. After this, "Doc" Weir entertained with his highly amusing and mystifying card tricks—there was not one who could fathom his unerring skill and "second sight."

"Shag" Shaughnessy pointed out that the team had not been receiving proper support. The men representing us in the Intercollegiate fixtures were all in the pink of condition, and would give every ounce of strength in their bodies to win on Saturday, but what they needed, and lacked, was a little extra "fighting spirit," which they could only obtain through an adequate number of Rooters turning out—everyone must feel responsible for his team.

After two very well played musical selections by Goodwin and Farthing, ginger ale was passed around, to the joy of all. There were drinks and "smokes" in abundance. LeRoyd, president of the Students' Council, said a few words regarding the value of smokers in a social way, also laying stress upon the work done by the Rooters' Club in this respect. After some amusing recitations by McLean, "Teddie" Thompson brought a very enjoyable evening to a close by leading the men in "Hail Alma Mater," followed by the McGill yell, when the meeting dispersed.

The committee deserve to be heartily congratulated on their progressive policy in carrying the affair to such a successful end, and everyone present may feel that he has "done his bit" for the Union, and consequently for "Old McGill," by being at the first Union Smoker of the session 1920-21.

I want to face the terror
Of mid-ocean's blasting storms,
I want to be a pilot
On mid-ocean's boundless greatness.
Farewell, ye shallow waters,
Light hearted winds, and shore lights gleam—
To-night I put out sailing
Upon the broad blue depths.

MEDICINE '23 SHOWS GREAT ENTHUSIASM

Lively Balloting For Election
Of Class Officers.

TREASURY IS FULL.

Question Of Obtaining Printed Copies Of Notes On Lectures.

Great enthusiasm characterized the first meeting of the class of Medicine '23 yesterday morning. The interest shown in the elections was a welcome contrast to the apathy which has too often been shown of late. No office was filled by acclamation and at least three men were nominated to contest each vacancy.

As last year's president and vice-president have not returned to college the chair was taken by Wilkie, the retiring treasurer. On nominations being called for the office of president three names were placed before the meeting. The election which followed was one of the closest which has ever taken place at the University, and necessitated a recount before the result could be made public.

J. Aylward was credited with forty-two votes and thereby secured the office. His opponents received thirty-eight and thirty-two votes respectively. In a few well chosen words the new president assured the gathering of his appreciation of the honor which had been conferred upon him and promised to exert all his efforts to make the coming year the most successful one in the history of the class.

Three members of the class were nominated for the office of vice-president, which was awarded to L. Parlow by a comfortable plurality. H. S. Everett successfully contended the office of secretary and was elected over his two opponents. The position of treasurer was entrusted to G. Cook after a close election in which four men were voted for.

A. Wilkie, the retiring treasurer, refused the nomination for re-election and in his discourse greatly pleased the class by stating that a considerable sum of money was in the treasury and that it is doubtful whether fees will have to be levied during the first term of the present session.

The office of class reporter was hotly contested. Five well known members of the class were nominated and expectation ran high as to which one would be successful in winning the honor. After the smoke had cleared away, F. Shaver was declared elected with a vote of fifty.

The concluding business was the lively discussion of a plan whereby the lecture notes in one of this year's subjects might be obtained in the printed form. The president announced that he had a copy of the notes which it would be easy to have printed, but there was a danger of the price being rather high. The class finally resolved that the executive be appointed as a committee to interview the professor on the subject and also to collect information on the various plans which had been brought forth during the meeting.

A crafty knave needs no broker.

WORLD FAMOUS CHEMIST WILL GIVE ADDRESS

Dr. Macallum To Speak To the Chemical Society.

"CAREER IN RESEARCH"

First Meeting To Be Held
At 5 p.m. In Chemical Building.

The opening meeting of the Chemical Society will take place in the Chemistry Building at 5 p.m. to-day and everyone interested is cordially invited to attend. The society has been fortunate enough to procure Dr. A. B. Macallum, who has selected as a subject "A Career in Research."

Dr. Macallum is so well known in the scientific world that apologies are almost necessary for the following brief remarks. He comes to McGill for the first time to take the Chair of Biochemistry. He was until recently Administrative Chairman of the Advisory Council for Research Work in Canada, the duties of this council being to advise the government on methods for scientific and industrial research work. Previous to this he had the chair of Biochemistry at Toronto University. Space forbids of the repetition of the numerous degrees conferred and the honors attained. These have already been published in the "McGill Daily."

Dr. Macallum's fame as a research worker and a director of research is even greater than that as a lecturer. Amongst his numerous published works we must mention his world famous work on the micro-chemistry of tissues which he particularly studied the distribution of potassium in the tissues. In another published research, on the relations of surface energy to vital phenomena, he developed the view that muscular contraction is due to surface energy. He has also conducted interesting investigations on the relation of salt concentration of the ocean to that of the blood of land-vertebrate animals. A conclusion which follows from this work is that the composition of the blood of land-vertebrate animals is similar to that of the ocean at the end of the Cambrian Period when their progenitors left the water for the land.

Everyone that misses this meeting will miss one of the best scheduled for the coming season, so try and be there.

FINAL TRIAL
TRACK TEAM
3.30 TO-DAY

The team has not been definitely picked yet, but at a meeting of the executive after the meet, it will be definitely decided as to what men are to represent McGill in Toronto next week.

Both Manitoba and Varsity feel confident that they have teams that cannot be equalled in Canada; but all we can say is that if they win from our aggregation of athletes, they will have to go a long way.

It is up to every man in the University who can do anything in the line of track events, to come out to-day and show us. It is your last chance this year. He have to win, and this can only be done by every man turning out.

All out — 3.30 p.m. — McGill Stadium — To-day!

A stranger answered, "Sure it is, but are you Grace or Sue?"

McGILL JUNIORS PLAY MACDONALD

Last Scheduled Game Of Season
At Stadium To-morrow.

At 10.30 Saturday morning the Juniors play their last scheduled game against Macdonald College at the Stadium. A good game is promised, and although the Aggies were beaten by a score of 15 to 0 in their last game against McGill, they have greatly improved during the last ten days, and will be a tough proposition. A light work-out will be held to-day at 4 p.m. sharp at the Stadium. All the members of the Junior team who have missed lectures, etc., due to football, please give their names, faculty and date of lectures missed to Mallison or Crain, and excuses will be obtained. All Juniors out to-day at 4 p.m.

HARRIERS TO HOLD SHORT RUN TO-DAY

New Men Urged To Turn Out

AT 4.30 P.M.

Material Now Turning Out
Promises the Finest Team
In Years.

That the McGill Harrier team this year is going to be one of the finest harrier teams McGill has ever turned out seems very evident.

The enthusiasm shown in this branch of sport is most creditable, and shows the presence of many live wires working in its interests.

Our track meet has demonstrated that we have runners of very fine calibre for the harriers; but we don't only have to rely on these men, as we have some thirty other men also out for harriers and several of these men are very likely to make the team.

About the first week in November the Inter-Faculty meet will be held; and there is no doubt that it will be one of the most exciting events of the year.

All men who so far have not turned out for the runs are warned that this branch of sport cannot be competed in with success unless the best of training rules are adhered to; and the important part of this is the regularity in attending the runs.

All harriers who are not competing in the track events this afternoon at the Stadium, are asked to be on hand for a short run at 4.30 sharp.

There are still a few of last year's harriers who have not turned out, and we would like to see them in action again. Surely we can get at least eleven more men for this healthy outdoor exercise, and swell our numbers to at least fifty.

Turn out before it is too late. The runs are only short ones now, and nobody is out for speed at present—just form. If you don't think you can run — come out and let us show you that you can. You may be one of those men who only think they can't, and don't like to try.

It's good sport, and healthy. Show some spirit and turn out and make the team which leaves for Toronto on the 12th of November.

Run to-day, 4.30 p.m. sharp.

NEXT MEET OF McGILL RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Will Shoot At Point aux
Trembles To-morrow.

BEGINNERS WELCOME.

Possibility Of An Intercollegiate Match With Varsity and Queens.

Weather permitting, the McGill Rifle Association will hold another shoot at the Pointe aux Trembles Ranges on Saturday next. Eager enquiries have been received during the week concerning the activities and prospects of the club, and it is expected there will be a large turnout at the second meet of the season.

Those who took part in last Saturday's shoot were all enthusiastic in their praise of this form of amusement and well satisfied with the facilities provided by the executive. However, it is hoped that the second shoot will be even more successful than the first. Men need not be afraid to turn out because they have not shot before. The club has still room for a limited number of new members, and these will be welcome on Saturday. The membership fee is $1.50 (one dollar and fifty cents), payable to the treasurer, H. W. Johnston, Sol. '21. Rifles and ammunition are provided free, but this nominal fee is necessary to cover incidental expenses.

There is good possibility of a revival of inter-class competition, in which the Birkett Trophy was last shot for in 1914. There is even some hope that an Intercollegiate series may be arranged. Both Queens and Varsity are at present being approached on the matter. These shoots would have to take place early in November, and in view of the limited time left for shooting, it is hoped that every man who is interested in shooting and who wants to see the McGill Rifle Association resume its old time standing, will turn out on Saturday, and help put the club on its feet.

Unless otherwise announced in tomorrow's "Daily," the party will leave the Arts Building at 12.15. New members would do well to either get in touch with the secretary, J. L. Bieler, Sol. '23, before Saturday, or arrive a little earlier at the meeting place.

ENGLISH RUGBY GAME TO BE TO-MORROW

To Take Place At Stadium At 3 P.M.

ALL TURN OUT.

Players Are Full Of "Pep"
For Second Game Of the Season.

McGill English Rugby players will stage their second game of the season to-morrow at 3 p.m., at the Stadium, when they meet the Montreal fifteen. The latter emerged winners from the last game by the close score of 5-3. The McGill men have been practising assiduously this week, and feel confident that they can redeem their defeat of last Monday. Several new men have made their appearance, and will be included in the line-up. Mitchell, the husky forward from Med. '23, will add greatly to the effectiveness of the scrum. Dobson, another new forward, is fast, and should make a good showing in the forward line. Helmcken has been moved to the three-quarter line from the full-back. His speed, running and kicking ability will greatly strengthen the back division. Prof. Matthews gave the backs some well needed advice in yesterday's work-out and their work has greatly improved. Beveridge will be missed at half-back, but Clarke should make a good substitute.

As the game is to be staged at the Stadium, a good turnout of spectators is looked for. Doubtless Rugby enthusiasts now resident in the city will take advantage of this opportunity of renewing acquaintance with the English code of Rugby.

The teams will line up as follows for Saturday's game:

McGill	Montreal
Spriggs or
Elderkin...full-back	Lane
Helmcken...three-quarter	Williams
Kelley...three-quarter	McFarlane

All those playing mandolins need not bring their instruments as Mr. Peate will supply instruments for the practice.

All old members and future members be on hand next Thursday evening and receive your music.

Next Friday when McGill goes to Toronto, a new rival will be found upon the field to compete against them for the track honors. From the Middle West come scions of the University of Manitoba to have their go at Intercollegiate honors.

For many years the West has been pursuing its onward course unnoticed by the rest of Canada and unaided by the Western Governments, until finally they are receiving the first fruits of their efforts by being represented in an Intercollegiate meet.

This introduces a question which will have to be decided shortly. Can McGill, Varsity, Queen's and R.M.C. rightfully term themselves Intercollegiate champions of Canada without allowing Western Canadian universities to play off with them?

Manitoba University is drawing up towards the 2,000 mark in attendance, and is putting up teams which are more worthy of consideration than we think. Last year Manitoba issued a challenge to McGill and Toronto for a hockey match, even offering to come East to play. This was refused, on what grounds it is hard to say. It would probably be news to Montreal men that the possibilities of losing to Manitoba are very considerable. Two of the undergraduates were members of the Olympic championship team, the Falcons, which played off at Antwerp, while the rest are all well-known in Western hockey circles.

It must soon come to pass that teams will be split up into two divisions. East and West, who will play off for the Dominion championship. McGill must earn all her titles then, and we must be careful not to exclude the West without proper grounds.

The meet at Toronto will be of added interest for this feature, and if Manitoba gets one-fifth of the total points at the meet, may she have her due.

RUGBY TEAM LEAVES TO-DAY FOR TORONTO

Players Grimly Determined
To Return Victorious.

VARSITY CONFIDENT.

Team Will Be Given Rousing
Send-Off At Bonaventure
This Morning.

They're off to the lair of the Varsity Rugby squad, ready to battle with the Blue and White in the crucial game for leadership in the Intercollegiate football race. At 10 o'clock this morning twenty-five players of the Red and White squad will pull out from the Bonaventure Station on their way to Toronto, where they will play the Varsity squad on Saturday afternoon for the first time this season. A large crowd of Rooters will go down with the team this morning and later on in the evening to watch the game and root for McGill in the struggle, which gives promise of being one of the closest witnessed in Intercollegiate circles for several years.

When the team leaves this morning it is planned to give the players a rousing send-off at the station. Many supporters of the squad who have off-hours this morning have signified their intention of being present at the Grand Trunk Railway Station when the squad starts on its trip for the Queen City.

Latest reports from the Varsity camp indicate that the Blue and White squad are confident of victory. Judging by the showing made by their pets at Kingston against the Queen's squad, and later against the Hamilton Tigers, the supporters of the Varsity fourteen see victory assured on Saturday. Great faith is being placed by the Blue and White fans in the playing of Breen and Stirrett, and in the strong number of spares that Varsity will be able to field in case of accidents, by the substitution of whom it is claimed the squad will not be weakened in any respect.

While it is realized that the Red and White squad is not as strong as last year, and that through accidents and other ill-fortune the senior aggregation will not be as strong on Saturday as was first expected, still, there is a spirit of grimness evident in the McGill camp which shows that the players are going to do their utmost to bring victory to the Red and White. Among the supporters of the team there is a feeling that somehow the squad will return "with the bacon."

As a fitting conclusion to the practice yesterday afternoon the Rooters' Club turned up at the Stadium and greeted the squad with rousing cheers, while the players responded with a loud McGill yell, given with great might, despite the fact that the men were fresh off the field after a strenuous work-out.

Captain "Dud" Ross was in the line-up again yesterday, apparently none the worse for his injury. Timmins was still among those missing. Besides the officials of the Club, the following players will make the trip to the Varsity camp:—Flanagan, Russell, Wilson, "Boo" Anderson, Normie Wallace, Balille, Livshin, Les Parsons, Jeff Notman, Lazler, Dud Ross, Ambridge, Punch Parkins, Gordie Nicholson, McGregor, "Bones" Little, Gamble, Gordie Ross, Andy Rutherford, Philpotts, Laffoley, Gordie Murphy, Matthewson and Dick Carroll.

From present indications it appears that the McGill team will take the field against Toronto, with Flanagan, Russell and Wilson at half, Anderson at flying wing, and Normie Wallace at the key position at quarter. Don Balille will be at centre scrum, in place of Timmins, and will be supported by Livshin and Parsons. Notman and Lazler will be found at inside, with Ross and Ambridge at middle, and Parkins and Nicholson at their usual places at outside.

In McGregor, Matthewson, Little and Gamble the Red and White is well-heeled for spare line-men, while Gordie Murphy can be counted on to fill in at outside should necessity arise. Gordie Ross has been working out well at quarter, and will be carried as spare for the pivot job. Rutherford will act as substitute flying wing, and Carroll, Philpotts and Laffoley spare halves.

With Dr. L. C. Montgomery and Hugh Gaul handling the whistles, the teams evenly matched, all that is needed is fine weather to make the game one of the historic battles of Intercollegiate Rugby.

GIVE RUGBY TEAM BOOST, SAYS COACH

Shag Tells Rooters Of Importance Of Cheering.

ENCOURAGES PLAYERS

"Thundering Thousand"
Rooted At Yesterday's Practice.

That the spirit necessary to turn out a championship Rugby squad can only be supplied by every student getting behind the Rooters' Club and thus pulling for the team, was the gist of a short talk given to the members of the Club yesterday afternoon by Coach Shaughnessy, of the McGill team, at the conclusion of the final practice of his machine prior to the big Varsity game.

Somewhat of an innovation was introduced by "Teedles" Thompson yesterday afternoon, when he appeared at the Stadium about 5.30, accompanied by the Rooters' Band and a goodly section of his "thundering thousand." Following a run over of songs and yells, in which entertainment the band played an important part, the Rooters sent up the cry:—

"We want Shag," and immediately the redoubtable coach answered the call, and walking the full length of the field told the Rooters just what an important organization theirs was in producing a championship squad. He pointed out that the men who played on the team were working for the honor of the University, and were going, through strenuous times that the flag might be kept flying high, adding that it was the duty of students who were not on the team to help them in the fight. Just how important the support of the Rooters was in fostering a keener spirit among the players was made plain by the coach, who instanced occasions when the Rooters had supplied the necessary incentive to the team to go in a win.

Captain "Dud" Ross, standing out in front of his players, thanked the Rooters on behalf of the team for their support, and told just how much it was appreciated by the Rugby men.

Following the talks, the team gave the McGill yell with a vim, and the Rooters started the hills reverberating with the cheers they sent up for the Red and White squad. On the eve of a great struggle the reception given the squad could not but add heart to the Red and White players.

Following the turn-out of the Rooters, a number of those who have free hours this morning decided to gather at the Old Campus at 9.15 and proceed to the Bonaventure Station, where they will speed the team on its way with a bunch of good yells.

The final practice will be held to-morrow at 5.20 p.m. in the Y.M.C.A. tank, and all players are requested to be present as the two teams for Wednesday's match will be picked on that occasion.
